Superintendent of Public Instruction

Background: Homeless Youth

How many: 42,038 homeless school-aged children – 6% of all students

How many are unaccompanied? 4,600 school-aged youth

Opportunity: Lack of state focus on youth homelessness

- Some indication that existing youth beds are under utilized
- No reliable measures of size and trend – youth homelessness is difficult to measure
- Indications that existing programs may inefficiently overlap

Strategies:

Office of Homeless Youth Prevention and Protection

August
2015

- Implement new legislation,
- Create the Office,
- Appoint committee
- Hire staff

- Quantify number of unfilled beds,
- Identify barriers to placement of unsheltered youth

December
2015

Link existing administrative datasets
(Commerce, OSPI, DSHS)

January
2016

- Office fully operational
- Collect data on homeless youth characteristics and prevalence

- Identify opportunities for better system integration

December
2016

Report on policy changes and resources needed to end youth homelessness

Strategies:

I. Create the Office of Homeless Youth Prevention and Protection

Create an office to centralize responsibility for implementing system changes to reduce youth homelessness, using data-driven planning

~ August 2015

II. Create meaningful measures of youth homelessness

Link existing administrative data sets from Commerce, DSHS, and OSPI to create measures of youth homelessness

~ December 2015

Strategies:

III. Promptly fill existing beds for homeless youth (HOPE, CRCs)

Quantify the number of beds unfilled, and identify barriers preventing placement of unsheltered youth

~ August 2015

IV. Develop plan to end youth homelessness

Identify policy and resources changes needed to end youth homelessness

~ December 2016

Strategy: Federal McKinney-Vento Act: Education of Homeless Children and Youth

Homeless Children and Youth: Washington

Homeless Students Reported by Districts

Homeless Education: <http://www.k12.wa.us/HomelessEd/default.aspx>

Purpose:

- School stability for children and youth experiencing homelessness
- Immediate enrollment and access for students experiencing homelessness
- Services and supports in place for duration of homelessness

Key Provisions:

- Designated liaison in every district
- Immediate enrollment
- Students can remain in school of origin
- District provides services, including transportation

Issues:

- High mobility impacts all students
- Higher dropout rate
- Liaisons lack necessary time/resource
- Numbers of homeless students rising

Addressing Needs

- Active outreach for identification of students
- Immediate enrollment, even if students lack records
(Enrollment=attending school and participating fully in all school activities)
- Immediate transfer of school records
- Addressing/eliminating barriers
- Transportation to school of origin
- Categorical eligibility for Title I and Free Meals
- Mediation of disputes
- Coordination with Early Learning Programs (Preschool/Head Start/ECEAP)
- Referrals to services (medical/dental/mental health, etc.)
- Coordination with community
